

Ritchey Scores Five TDs / Sports

The Chronicle

Reaching 110,000 Readers in Print and Online — www.chronline.com

$1

Early Week Edition
Tuesday,
Sept. 30, 2014

Antique Accomplishment

Downtown Centralia Honored by USA Today as a Top 10 Destination / Main 3

Big Barn Show Sale

Wedin Farm and Friends Prepare for Fall Harvest Show on Spooner Road / Life 1

Inslee to Visit Chehalis Basin, Centralia College

CLIMATE TOUR: Jay Inslee's Visit to Area Focuses Primarily on Flooding Issues

By The Chronicle

Gov. Jay Inslee will visit south Thurston and Lewis counties today as part of his 2014 Climate Tour.

The tour has brought the governor to several communities over the summer to talk about climate change and the effects it has on businesses, families and communities. This portion of the tour deals primarily with flooding issues that have affected the Chehalis River Basin.

According to an official itinerary, the governor will first meet with the Chehalis Basin Working Group at the Chehalis Tribal Community Center, 461 Secena Road in Oakville, at noon to discuss impacts of persistent flooding in the Chehalis River Basin.

please see INSLEE, page Main 14

Two Toledo Councilors Donate Pay to Library Bill

HELPING: Councilors Mike Thomas and Jim Fluckinger Help Greater Toledo Community Library With Water Bill

By Justyna Tomtas

jtomas@chronline.com

Two councilors decided to give back to the Greater Toledo Community Library by reaching into their pockets and donating their monthly stipends to help pay for the monthly water bill.

Pat Caldwell, co-owner of

please see TOLEDO, page Main 14

College Gets Share of $10 Million Grant

DEVELOPMENT: Centralia College and Center of Excellence for Clean Energy Will Lead Effort

By The Chronicle

The federal government has awarded Centralia College's Pacific Northwest Center of Excellence for Clean Energy, along with two other Centers of Excellence and eight community colleges, nearly $10 million to give students the skills they need for careers currently in demand.

The money will go toward a project called Washington Integrated Sector Employment, otherwise known as WISE. It's aimed at giving entry-level training in clean energy, construction and advanced manufacturing, and will involve eight community and technical colleges, five workforce investment boards, the Washington State Labor Council and several private employers.

Centralia College will be the lead in the WISE project.

The program is expected to reach almost 2,000 adults

please see GRANT, page Main 14

Vietnam Veterans Group Finds a New Home in the Mint City

Christopher Brewer / cbrewer@chronline.com

Members of the Gamewardens Association walk past a patrol boat river, or PBR, that was used in service in the Vietnam War. This PBR, service number 750, is used by the Gamewardens in parades and events such as the Portland Rose Festival.

MOVED: Gamewardens Association Celebrates New Location in Building Leased from Port of Chehalis

By Christopher Brewer

cbrewer@chronline.com

When members of the Northwest chapter of the Gamewardens Association got together in Chehalis on Saturday, they bonded over shared experiences in the Vietnam War.

The Gamewardens will be calling the Mint City home for a work space to maintain and repair the boats they piloted, and shoot the breeze with their fellow sailors on a near-monthly basis.

The Northwest Chapter of

please see HOME, page Main 14

Members of the Gamewardens Association gather for a portrait Saturday under their logo on the outside of a warehouse they are renting on Habein Road in Chehalis.

Weather

TONIGHT: Low 48
TOMORROW: High 66
Partly cloudy
see details on page Main 2

Weather picture by Roxey Zion, Onalaska

Familiar Face

Even After Court Ruling, Slerf Not Settled / Main 4

Deaths

Ramos, Nora Laverne, 60, Winlock
Brooks, Phillip M., 51, Napavine
Sherwood, Carol Gladys, 85, Centralia
Pea, Mary Ellen, 74, Napavine
Spath, Jack L., 90, Toledo

The Chronicle, Serving The Greater Lewis County Area Since 1889

Follow Us on Twitter @chronline

Find Us on Facebook www.facebook.com/thecentraliachronicle

8 04879 12527 3

